New Republic Partners Expands Reach in Southeast

CHARLOTTE, November 1, 2022 — New Republic Partners announced today the acquisition of Haber Investment Counsel, an Atlanta-based investment and multi-family office firm serving ultra-high-net-worth families and individuals in the Southeast.

“We are looking forward to working with Cort Haber and his team to broaden our geographic reach and deepen our capabilities in serving successful individuals, families and institutions,” said Tom Hoops, chief executive officer of New Republic Partners. “Their expertise in delivering institutional-quality investment solutions, complex planning, and sophisticated, strategic advice will complement our capabilities.”

New Republic Partners is a privately held investment management and wealth advisory firm providing clients access to innovative and customized investment solutions, including top-tier investment opportunities and bespoke asset-class-specific fund offerings. Firm clients invest alongside firm partners, large family offices and other clients while maintaining confidentiality and a customized solution.

New Republic Partners was launched in 2021 by a group of experienced financial executives. The firm founders saw opportunities in a changed investment landscape to better serve clients by providing access to unique investment solutions usually reserved for large institutional investors, as well as proprietary private funds and other co-investment opportunities. The firm was created in partnership with two prominent families — bringing together their investment teams, and decades-long relationships with some of the best investment managers globally — to create an innovative multi-family office firm with an unparalleled combination of access, alignment, expertise and customization. Since its founding, the firm has posted rapid growth and attracted clients throughout the Southeast.

“We are joining forces with New Republic Partners to add depth and broaden our scope in serving clients with leading-edge investment solutions,” said Cort Haber, founder and managing director of Haber Investment Counsel. “Their top-tier talent and client-centric approach align well with our philosophy of providing clients with unique access to investment opportunities, addressing their complex balance sheets with sophisticated tax and estate planning and debt restructuring, and managing their relationships with other professional services providers.”

Haber will serve as a managing director and member of the executive committee and the investment committee at New Republic Partners.
